What you might get back after costs:

Average return each year:

Favourable scenario

(product ends after 3 years)

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 36 months under different scenarios, assuming that you invest USD 10 000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. In addition, you should note that the results shown for the intermediate holding periods do not reflect estimates of the product's future value. You should therefore not base your investment decision on the results shown for these interim holding periods.

This product cannot be easily cashed in. This means it is difficult to estimate how much you would get back if you cash in before maturity. For more information, see "How long should I hold it and can I take money earlier?" below.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor [or distributor (intermediary)]. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

How long should I hold it and can I take money earlier?

Recommended holding period: 36 months

The product aims to provide you with the return described under "What is this product?" above. However, this only applies if the product is held to maturity. It is therefore recommended that the product is held until the maturity date.

You, however, have an option to terminate the product early. In case you do so you will, within 5 (five) business days upon the proposed early termination date receive the early termination amount equal to 65% of the Notional multiplied by the lesser of (a) one; or (b) the ratio between the Worst Performing Share's Current Price as of Early Termination Valuation Date and 100% of its initial value.
